

Wednesday 16th March 2022

Imagine that this is your home. Think of different ways to describe what you can see, what you would be able to smell, feel, taste and hear.

Imagine that you have moved to live here. Think of different ways to describe what you can see, what you would be able to smell, feel, taste and hear.

Thursday 17th March 2022

Using the vocabulary you developed yesterday, write a descriptive comparison. In this piece of writing, you will be describing your current home (the city) and writing about what you are looking forward to about going home. Think about how it will smell different, sound different and look different.